

Make Internet Computer Great Again

Kool-aid for ICP holders

Abstract

Nobody reads whitepapers but everyone wants projects to have whitepapers. So here it is, a whitepaper which you will have no problem understanding. This is one true token to bring together everyone broken and demoralized by Internet Computer. Keywords: Cryptocurrency, Blockchain, ShitCoin

INTRODUCTION

The Internet Computer is the world's first blockchain that runs at web speed with unbounded capacity. It also represents the third major blockchain innovation, alongside Bitcoin and Ethereum — a blockchain computer that scales smart contract computation and data, runs them at web speed, processes and stores data efficiently, and provides powerful software frameworks to developers. By making this possible, the Internet Computer enables the complete reimagination of software — providing a revolutionary new way to build tokenized internet services, pan-industry platforms, decentralized financial systems, and even traditional enterprise systems and websites. The project was founded in October 2016 by Dominic Williams, and attracted notable interest from the crypto community.

Do you know what the fuck this means? I have no fucking idea and yet, this is the description of Internet Computer. However, being dumped from 700.65 USD to current price of around 20 USD at the time of this writing is not cool. So, we have no choice but to launch this one of a kind token called Make Internet Computer Great Again (MICGA). Together, we can hoard MICGAs to make Internet Computer Great Again.

ROADMAP

We believe in the spirit of blockchain technology and decentralization. We know that you want lambos and we want you to have them. But, to stay true to the spirit of decentralization, we are not going to do anything about it. You have to buy shitload of MICGA and shill the shit out of this. Ask everyone who ever has ever held any amount to ICP to create a movement. If more people buy MICGA, prices may probably go up and if you are an early adopter, you will have a chance to dump your MICGAs. If no one buys, there will be no lambos. So yeah, you gotta do your own work. Now, go shill.

TOKENOMICS

What tokenomics? There are 6,969,696,969 MICGAs in existence. Why that number? Why not.
